Officers charge 16 suspects

Grand jury indicts 26 on drug counts

A record number of indictments returned by a special session of the Fayette County grand jury Friday resulted in the arrest of 16 area persons on illicit drug trafficking charges.

The grand jury, in one of the longest sessions in recent history, returned 26 indictments containing 81 counts and teams of officers from the Washington C.H. Police Department and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department immediately started apprehending the persons charged.

Those arrested and charged with illicit drug trafficking on grand jury indictments were identified as:

Deborah Lynn Knisley, 18, of Reesville; Robert A. Beedy, 21, of 1126 E. Temple St.; Randy E. Payton, 18, of 522 Peddicord Ave.; Danny D. Daugherty, 23, Rt. 1, Bainbridge; Roy D. Satterfield, 20, of 1041 Broadway; Mark R. Gattion, 19, of New Holland; Alma Audrey Hoagland, 31, of 401 Peddicord Ave.; Sammy G. Beedy, 19, of 317 Western Ave.; Joseph W. Seymore, 19, of 427 Peddicord Ave.; Terry D. Wilson, 19, Rt. 1, Washington C.H.; Robert T. Lutz, 19, of 523 E. Temple St.; Danny M. Hoagland, 35, of 401 Peddicord Ave.; and Morris Clark, 18, of Columbus.

Two area juveniles, Jeffrey Wilson, 17, Rt. 1, Bloomingburg, and James Yahn, 17, of 737 Washington Ave. were included in the grand jury indictments and arrested by law enforcement officers Friday.

Officers said all the suspects were charged with possession of an hallucinogen for sale, sale of an hallucinogen and possession of illicit drugs. All are first degree felony charges.

Steven M. Taylor, 22, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., was arrested by officers Friday afternoon in connection with the illicit drug trafficking, although he was not indicted by the grand jury. Taylor was charged with the same three drug counts in addition to carrying a concealed weapon. Officers said the concealed weapon was a switchblade knife.

A number of additional arrests are pending, according to law enforcement officers.

Officers stated that Mrs. Hoagland, wife of Danny Hoagland, has also been charged with probation violation.

All of the defendants are incarcerated in lieu of $25,000 bond apiece. Most of the suspects were lodged in the Fayette County jail, but when it became overcrowded the transfer of defendants to the city jail and the Pickaway County jail in Circleville was authorized for security reasons.

The defendants are scheduled to appear for arraignments at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 3 before Judge Evelyn W. Coffman in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

Washington C.H. Police Chief Rodman Scott and Fayette County Sheriff Donald L. Thompson said the majority of the arrests were made in Fayette County. However, Hoagland was arrested late Friday in Warren County, while Daugherty was apprehended in Ross County.

Investigating officers said Clark was arrested by a Washington C.H. police officer and Columbus detectives late Friday in Columbus.

More than 25 officers from the Fayette County Sheriff's Department and the Washington C.H. Police Department began making apprehensions of those charged at 4 p.m. Friday after the grand jurors had been dismissed.

Scott and Thompson said the arrests climaxed an intensive investigation conducted by agents of the Ohio Attorney General's narcotics division and officers from both the Washington C.H. Police Department and Fayette County Sheriff's Department.

Three agents from the attorney general's office assisted police officers and sheriff's deputies in the apprehensions Friday.

The arrests were the result of numerous drug buys made by an agent of the attorney general's narcotics unit over the past three months in the Fayette County area.

Both Scott and Thompson indicated that they received valuable information during the three-month investigation that will probably result in further legal action.

Marijuana and various other types of drugs were confiscated from those persons arrested Friday, but officers would not elaborate.

Police said the persons charged had also been peddling drugs to minors in the Fayette County area, the youngest being 14 years of age.

All the arrests were the result of the purchases by state narcotics agents. Officials said different amounts and quantities of drugs were purchased throughout the investigation.

One of the 17-year-old youths arrested Friday stuffed a bag full of marijuana in his mouth in an attempt to conceal the substance.

"We have known for many months there was a serious problem with illegal drug use and sale in this area," said Thompson. "When it became apparent that the problem was getting out of control, local law enforcement officers, after conferring with the Fayette County prosecuting attorney's office, contacted the Ohio Attorney General's narcotics division requesting their assistance in the matter."

Law enforcement officers informed the attorney general's office that a large number of drug and related arrests were being made by officers while on other types of routine police functions; that they had received a large number of complaints from parents and other sources concerning illegal drug use and sale; that an alarming number of drug overdose investigations were being made, and that the drug arrests being made by local officers were well-known to users and sellers.

"Local officers were aware that it was impossible for them to make purchases from pushers as they were well known to the pushers," Thompson stated. "Both departments had made many successful arrests of persons for possession, but felt this was not the source of the problem."

All information obtained during the three-month investigation was presented to the Fayette County prosecuting attorney's office.

"We've been under a lot of criticism and the average person just doesn't realize what's involved in this type of investigation," Thompson said. "At least 75 drug arrests have been made in Fayette County and Washington C.H. in the past year, but we wanted the guy who was selling."

Only seven witnesses presented testimony during the special session of the county grand jury. Twenty-six cases were presented by Fayette County prosecuting attorneys James A. Kiger and John H. Rossmann.

Two other indictments were returned by the grand jurors in addition to the drug-related counts.

Indicted were John W. Dyson, 39, of 753 John St., on a charge of abduction, and Howard S. Johnson, 28, of 1112 E. Temple St., on a charge of forgery.

Dyson was charged by Fayette County sheriff's deputies with abduction earlier this month following a domestic quarrel at a West Lancaster residence. Additional charges of aggravated menacing and assault were lodged against Dyson.

Dyson allegedly forced his way into a West Lancaster home and held a 16-year-old youth at gunpoint. Dyson, who was reportedly armed with a handgun and shotgun, allegedly threatened and struck the youth.

An indictment for forgery was returned against Howard S. Johnson, 28, of 1112 E. Temple St., who had been arrested by city police Wednesday.

SEARCH FOR SUSPECTS OPENS — Immediately after a Fayette County grand jury had returned indictments against 26 persons for alleged drug sales, more than 25 Washington C.H. police officers and Fayette County sheriff's deputies began searching for the suspects. The search, which netted 16 defendants, started shortly after 4:30 p.m. and lasted until early Saturday.

To assist buyers with finances

President to sign big mortgage bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is expected to sign a bill aimed at providing mortgage financing for thousands of moderate-income homebuyers.

The Senate approved the measure by voice vote Friday and sent it to the White House after compromising with the administration on a limit on home buyers' fees.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who had blocked the bill Thursday night, relented after the Ford administration agreed to a limit of 4 per cent on "points" — fees that are added to the purchase price of homes bought with federally-insured mortgages.

The Senate had passed a 2 per cent limit on points, but the House removed the ceiling at the request of the administration. Proxmire agreed not to hold up the bill further after the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) pledged to limit points to 4 per cent.

Carla A. Hills, secretary of housing and urban development, said, "Today's action demonstrates that a working partnership between the executive and legislative branches can produce far more for the American people than the politics of confrontation."

Administration sources said Ford was expected to sign the bill, which was put together after the President vetoed an earlier housing bill.

The bill is designed to provide mortgage financing for thousands of moderate-income homebuyers by providing a $10 billion increase in home mortgage purchase authority for the GNMA.

"This should open up more loans, more jobs, and this is what we're working for," said Proxmire, who is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

The current rate on points is 4.5 per cent, of which 2.5 goes to the federal agency insuring the mortgage and 2 per cent to the bank that handles the mortgage. One point is 1 per cent of the value of the mortgage.

GNMA President Daniel Carney

agreed to the 4 per cent limit on points until July 1, 1976, thereby lowering the current rate and preventing any increase.

Meanwhile, in other economic developments:

—The U.S. Railway Association recommended that financially-ailing railroads in the Northeast be consolidated into one system called ConRail. The route structure recommended by the association differed little from the plan it proposed in late February.

—The Agriculture Department said the prices farmers received for their raw products during the month ended

June 15 increased 2 per cent. It was the third consecutive monthly rise.

—A Treasury Department official said he expects the government to investigate whether foreign auto makers are selling their cars in the United States at prices below their home markets.

—Aluminum Company of America, the nation's largest producer of aluminum, announced a 2.3 per cent price rise over 60 per cent of its shipments.

—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced a 4.9 per cent price increase on Goodyear tires and tubes.

Hunt for killers of 2 FBI agents widens on reservation

PINE RIDGE, S.D. (AP) — The FBI says its search for the slayers of two FBI agents is still centered on the sprawling Pine Ridge Indian Reservation that has been beset by shootings, beatings and killings.

"There is nothing to indicate that the persons have left the reservation," FBI spokesman Thomas Coll said Friday. "Until we are positive that they are not here, we will continue the search."

About 200 agents are combing the rugged hills and ravines of the nation's second largest reservation, using armored personnel carriers, a helicopter and a light plane.

Coll, public information specialist for the FBI, said the bureau has not identified the persons it is seeking, but he said there are believed to be 16 of them.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Wounded Knee Legal Defense Fund in Rapid City and American Indian Movement Leader Russell Means charged that the FBI had provoked the shootings by killing an Indian. The legal fund spokesman said he fears the federal search will result in the random arrest of Indians.

The two slain agents, Jack R. Coler and Ronald A. Williams, both 28, were shot Thursday when they approached a group of reservation buildings to serve arrest warrants on four Indians. The enclave had trenches dug around it.

Ohio solons pass bills, go home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio lawmakers have gone home for the July 4 holiday, leaving Gov. James A. Rhodes with several key bills before him, including the state's $10.6 billion budget.

In a flurry of activity Friday, the General Assembly completed action on four other measures, including a separate $731 million transportation budget, and recessed for a 10-day break.

Rhodes began clearing his desk by signing into law a bill making the 55 mile per hour speed limit permanent. The federal government had threatened to cut off highway funds to states not in compliance with the lower speed limit by July 1, when Ohio's temporary law expires.

The governor also signed a bill creating a state regulatory board to license speech pathologists and audiologists.

He has already announced he will veto part of the Democratic-drafted spending plan for the state's upcoming biennium, beginning July 1.

Budget Director Howard Collier, who will disclose the line item vetoes Monday, indicated the governor's action will not cause the state any immediate bill-paying problems.

Rhodes is expected, however, to tighten the purse strings on majority Democrats who moved to broaden legislative authority over state agencies through budget language.

The governor was also reported nearing a veto on a major bill that would create an Ohio Energy Research and Development Agency to coordinate a state energy program under a single agency umbrella.

Rhodes, who has repeatedly called for prompt action on an energy plan, is unhappy with the Democratic proposal because it involves use of the Ohio Development Center, a state agency which has been the target of Republican criticism.

The Senate and House also concurred

Friday on two less controversial items. Ohio State University and the Medical College of Ohio at Toledo could purchase malpractice insurance for their physicians and employees under one bill.

Another piece of legislation would revise state veterinarian laws, including the establishing a category of licensed animal technicians to assist vets. Both bills were sent to Rhodes.

The Senate approved 30-0 a House-passed resolution to clarify the authority of charitable groups to hold bingo games. The proposed constitutional amendment does not require the governor's signature and will go before voters on Nov. 5.

Separate legislation strictly defining charitable gambling bogged down in joint conference committee when the sponsor, Rep. Ronald Weyandt, D-43 Akron, refused to agree to a compromise that would have watered down an absolute ban on slot machines.

Coffee Break ..

ENTRY deadlines for the 1975 Ohio State Fair are only days away, according to Lawton McClintock, supervisor of livestock and agriculture.

McClintock noted that the entry deadline is July 15; the Horse show entry deadline is July 18; and the entry deadline for rabbits and caviar is Aug. 1.

"In comparison to the number of entries received last year at this time, we're running ahead," said McClintock.

"It's interesting to see that there have been more requests for entry information from persons who have never exhibited before at the state fair," he added.

This year's state fair opens Aug. 21.

Rocky backs off on assassinations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller has backed away from a suggestion that John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy may have been involved in assassination plots developed by the CIA.

In an interview Friday on NBC-TV's "Today" show, Rockefeller was asked about the criticism that had followed a June 15 appearance on NBC's "Meet the Press." In the earlier television appearance he discussed the Kennedys and the assassination plots studied by his commission on the Central Intelligence Agency.

"That is a totally false criticism," Rockefeller said, responding with a firm "Yes, Ma'am" when NBC's Barbara Walters asked if he had been misquoted and misinterpreted after the earlier appearance.

Ohio Bell's testimony shows low rates under present law

Changing Ohio's utility rate law would not lower the costs of providing service and therefore would not lead to lower telephone prices, according to Ohio Bell vice president Joseph D. Reed.

"In fact," Reed pointed out, "under the existing state law, Ohio Bell customers have lower average telephone bills than customers in most other states."

Reed made the statements during testimony before the Ohio House-Senate Select Committee on Energy in Columbus. Noting recent calls for a change in the law, which evaluates utilities' plant investments under a reproduction-cost-new-less-depreciation formula (RCNLD), he emphasized:

— inflation is forcing the cost of providing telephone service steadily upward. A change in the law would not affect the increase cost of providing that service;

— a change in the law would not affect utilities' needs for adequate revenue in order to meet their costs and pay for the buildings, lines and other equipment necessary for good service; and — a change would raise a "red flag" to potential investors, making it even more costly and difficult for utilities to obtain capital.

Instead of changing the law, Reed suggested a three-point program of legislative support for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio — adequate funding, adequate staffing with pay levels high enough to retain well-qualified employees, and continuing legislative review of salary levels and staff size.

Reed said this program would help the commission make prompt decisions and reduce regulatory lag. It also would allow utilities to continue to provide good service, and at reasonable rates.

Explaining the benefits of the present Ohio rate law for telephone customers Reed testified that rates are not only among the lowest, but service also is as good as or better than that available elsewhere.

Annual horse show slated

LEESBURG — The Bar-None Riding Club will sponsor its annual horse show July 4 at Producers Stockyards, U.S. 62, just north of Leesburg.

Some $300 in prize money will be awarded to the top riders throughout the day-long show. Rain or shine, the program will begin at 10 a.m. with the halter classes.

There will be 20 different classes in all. They include 4-H, registered quarter horses, ponies, open, and performance classes. Cash awards will be given for the first four places in each of eight performance classes.

The highlight of the program will be the $100 open western pleasure horse competition. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded to the top finishers in all classes.

More than 90 horses were entered last year, and the club is looking forward to an even greater turnout this year.

Gate admission is $1 per person, with children under 12 admitted free.

Food will be available throughout the day.

Defendant fined for open burning

OTICE Stookey, 80, of 1215 S. Fayette St., was fined $100 in Washington C.H. Municipal Court Friday after he pleaded guilty to a charge of open burning of trash and rubble in violation of a city ordinance.

Stookey appeared before acting Judge John P. Case on the charge, filed Tuesday by the Washington C.H. Fire Department, after he hosted a spectacular "weiner roast" in his back yard.

Stookey was charged when he started a fire in a pile of wood and trash several feet high to allegedly hold a cookout. The flame burned an overhead telephone cable, knocking out service to some 25 customers before firemen arrived to extinguish the blaze.

Stookey was not ordered to make restitution to the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Budget proposal on board's slate

A tentative budget for the 1975-1976 school year is expected to be approved by members of the Fayette County Board of Education at the regular semi-monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the county office, E. Court St.

Superintendent Guy M. Foster said besides the budget proposal, board members will discuss the transfer of seventh and eighth pupils from Madison Mills Elementary School to Bloomingburg Elementary School effective this fall with residents of the Madison Mills area.

The board will also consider five teacher resignations, the employment of four new teachers, the offering of supplementary contracts for high school cheerleader advisors, requests for tuition by students, the continued participation in two federally-funded programs, scheduling a date for receiving fuel bids and adopting a new social studies series for elementary students.

Index has increased about 80 per cent. During this same period Ohio Bell's rates have increased only about 35 per cent." Reed also pointed out that the company does not pass on any of its increased costs through automatic adjustment clauses.

New Jersey resident named Bell president

CLEVELAND — Charles E. Hugel, vice president of operations, a director and member of the executive committee of the New England Telephone Co., has been elected president and chief executive officer and a director of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., effective September 1.

He succeeds Frederick R. Eckley, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. president for 13 years, who is retiring.

Hugel began his telephone career in 1952 as a student engineer for New Jersey Bell. He held various positions before being named assistant vice president in 1963. He was appointed general manager of the company's southern area in 1964.

He joined the Western Electric Co. in 1966 as general manager of the New York region. In 1970, he returned to New Jersey Bell as vice president of operations and a director and was also a member of the executive committee of the company. On July 1, 1973, Hugel joined New England Telephone as vice president of operations.

He was graduated from Lafayette College in 1951 and is president-elect of its Alumni association.

Hugel and his wife, Cornelia, live in Wellesley Hills, Mass. They have two sons, Jeffrey and Christian.

Eckley has spent nearly 40 years in the Bell System and has served at New Jersey Bell, AT&T, AT&T Long Lines, Northwestern Bell and Michigan Bell in addition to being Ohio Bell's chief executive.

Senate panel backs no-fault insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every car driver in the country would be required to have no-fault insurance coverage under a bill approved by a Senate committee.

No-fault would save American drivers as much as $1 billion in premium payments annually, said Sen. Warren C. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Commerce Committee, which approved the bill Friday.

Under the bill's approach, an auto accident victim would be compensated promptly by his own insurance company for all medical and rehabilitation expenses, regardless of who caused the accident.

As it is, the accident victim often has to go to court and prove "fault" before recovering any money at all.

Accident trial lawyers, staunch opponents of the bill, receive some $1.8 billion in fees each year, more than seriously injured victims receive in court-awarded damages, says Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, chairman of the Commerce subcommittee which drafted the bill.

Other provisions of the bill:

— Payments of up to $15,000 would be

U.S. offers plan for Korea tied to extension of truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States says it would agree to an end to the U.N. command in South Korea by next Jan. 1 if China and North Korea agreed to a continuation of the 1953 cease-fire that ended the Korean war and left Korea divided.

Under the offer, made Friday in a note to the U.N. Security Council, the U.N. command under U.S. officers would be replaced by a force of Americans and South Koreans. The 38,000 U.S. troops in South Korea would remain because they are covered by a separate 1954 agreement with South Korea.

U.S. officials hope to end annual proposals from Communist and nonaligned countries for a General Assembly resolution calling for dissolution of the U.N. command or for withdrawal of foreign troops in Korea under the U.N. flag. Such proposals have had near majority support in the last two assembly sessions.

Storms slam plains areas with wind, rain and hail

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms boiling out of persistent heat and humidity over the midcontinent hit portions of the Plains with wind, rain and hail again today.

Four golfers were injured by lightning Friday afternoon at the Western Open Golf Tournament west of Chicago as a heavy thunderstorm churned into northeastern Illinois.

A severe-thunderstorm watch remained in effect in the predawn hours in the Dakotas. Winds up to 75 miles an hour whipped Williston, N.D., Friday night and caused minor damage.

Locally heavy rains with wind gusts to 65 m.p.h. and large hail lashed parts of Colorado. Local flooding of low-lying areas closed U.S. 50 east of Lamar late Friday.

Some 7,000 acres of farm land in northwestern Indiana were flooded Friday after a 50-foot section of an earthen dike on the Kankakee River collapsed. The dike had been weakened by recent heavy rains. No one was injured and no livestock was drowned.

In the Northwest, four inches of snow piled onto the Going to the Sun Highway in Glacier National Park in northwest Montana on Friday, closing the scenic route until plows could clear it. Then, because of continuing snow and possible avalanche conditions, park officials ordered all traffic to move across the top of the mountain pass in convoys.

provided if injury prevented a person from working.

—An injured housewife would receive funds to hire help to care for the house or for her children.

—Persons disabled for more than 90 days would have the legal right to sue the driver at fault for additional damages.

—Lawsuits for intangible damages such as pain and suffering would be restricted to serious cases.

Several states have implemented different versions of no-fault insurance programs. The Senate bill amounts to a set of minimum standards that would have to be met or exceeded by every state.

There were three dissenting votes in the 18-member committee: Sens. James L. Buckley, Con.-R., N.Y.; Vance Hartke, D-Ind.; and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.

The committee action sends the bill to the full Senate, which passed a similar bill last year by a vote of 53 to 42. The House failed to act. Magnuson said the Senate margin should be larger this year and that the outlook for House passage is good.

argued that the status of the armistice agreement which ended the 1950-1953 Korean War would be questionable if the U.N. command — a party to the agreement — were dissolved.

The American note called for formal consent to the proposal by North Korea and China — which also signed the July 27, 1953, agreement.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Robert Anderson said the United States has always been willing to see the U.N. command in Korea dismantled as long as a substitute mechanism was provided for maintaining the peace.

Tensions have been high along the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea since the Communist victories in Indochina. South Koreans fear the Communists may try to invade across DMZ to test America's willingness to defend another Asian ally in the wake of setbacks in Vietnam and Cambodia.

Zivkovich was suspended by the Apple Valley school board after the article appeared but later won reinstatement.

The suit named as defendants Playgirl, Inc., publisher Douglas Lambert and the author of the article, Michele Brown.

CLASS ACTION FILED

Denzil L. Leggett, 1722 Green Valley Road, and Regina R. Del Ponte, 503 S. Main St., have filed a civil action in Common Pleas Court on behalf of themselves and 21 other teachers in the Washington C.H. School District. The action is against United Founders Life Insurance Co., Oklahoma City, Okla.

The plaintiffs state that the 23 teachers have paid monthly premiums to the defendant for alleged tax-sheltered annuities. They further state that they were told that they could withdraw from the "program" at any time, taking with them their premiums paid along with all interest and dividends.

According to the petition, they have since found that they cannot recover the full value of the premiums, interest and dividends. They claim that the contract which they signed was inaccurately represented to them and ask that the court rescind the contract and order the defendant to return all premiums along with dividends and interest.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED

Charles W. Dennis, 1727 S. North St., has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Pennington Brothers, Inc., 1100 Clinton Ave., and the firm's general manager, Jack Brennan, 339 Joanne Drive, as an agent for the company and as an individual.

According to the petition, the plaintiff was employed by the firm until July 10, 1974. Since that time he has been seeking employment and submitting Pennington as prior employer. The plaintiff claims that the defendants have maliciously circulated orally, and in writing, to others false and defamatory information about the plaintiff, stating that he was "dishonest," "fired for stealing" and other similar statements which would prejudice a prospective employer.

The plaintiff states that such allegations are untrue and that the firm could easily have ascertained that the statements were false. He further claims that Brennan, as an individual and a representative of the bakery, has made the statements with the intention of injuring the plaintiff, and the firm has been negligent in not prohibiting its agent from making such statements.

The plaintiff is seeking $30,000 for damage to his reputation and lack of work as well as $100,000 in punitive damages.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Delores J. Flora, 3553 CCC-Highway-E, has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from James R. Flora, 1219 Rawlings St., on grounds of neglect and cruelty. The parties have two children the issue of their marriage and the plaintiff was awarded custody and support.

Dorothy Walls, 317 Clyburn Ave., has been granted a divorce from Noah Walls on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties have one child who is emancipated. The plaintiff was awarded alimony.

Phillip A. Crago, 12398 Ohio 38-N, has been granted a divorce from JoAnn Crago, Oakland, Calif., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties have no children the issue of their marriage, and the defendant was restored to her former name of JoAnn Laughery.

Lawrence E. Mickle, Bloomingburg, has been granted a divorce from Lawanda J. Mickle on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties have two children the issue of their marriage and the plaintiff was awarded custody.

DISSOLUTION GRANTED

Diane and Paul Riley, Jeffersonville, have been granted a dissolution of their marriage in Common Pleas Court. Their interests were divided in accordance with their separation agreement.

DIVORCE ACTIONS DISMISSED

The divorce action filed in Common Pleas Court by Michael L. Hurlles, 1121 E. Paint St., against Diane M. Hurlles, 526 Rawlings St., has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

The divorce action filed by Brenda M. Duncan, 412 Peabody Ave., against Roger B. Duncan has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

PETITION DISMISSED

A petition seeking a dissolution of the marriage of Michael and Brenda Duncan, Jeffersonville, has been dismissed at the request of the parties.

Petition drive brings warning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson has warned that state employees cannot circulate petitions for Gov. James A. Rhodes' bond proposals on state time.

Ferguson said he was studying numerous complaints about employees being forced to circulate petitions.

"Gathering signatures on petitions to place bond issues on the election ballot, during state time and using state facilities, is not state business."

"And if our examiners find any instance of this, they will bring findings for recovery against the responsible persons," he said.

SLA members get life terms

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — To Russell Little and Joseph Remiro, both self-avowed Symbionese Liberation Army "soldiers," life imprisonment for first-degree murder is "no big deal."

Superior Court Judge Elvin Sheehy sentenced them Friday after denying motions for a new trial. Before imposing sentence, he asked the defendants if they had anything to say in their defense for the 1973 assassination of Oakland School Supt. Marcus Foster.

Defiant, but soft-spoken, Remiro and then Little turned to address the three dozen youthful, denim-clad spectators gathered in the Alameda County courtroom. Many of their remarks were greeted with applause.

Reward offered in wire theft

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Dayton Power & Light Co. has offered $150 for information concerning the theft of four miles of copper wire from rural utility poles in Darke County.

The thefts began last October, the company said. They decreased for awhile, but there were three more incidents this past week. More than 22,000 feet has been taken so far, the company said.

The utility values the stolen wire at $4,000, plus $2,500 for reinstalling it.

DP&L said the thieves know what they're doing, because they can climb the pole and they know which of the overhead wires is the neutral one.

Country music called 'disgrace'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music is "a national disgrace," jazz musician Stan Kenton said, adding that he hates almost everything Nashville stands for.

"I hate country and western music. It is ignorant music and perverted music. I abhor it," Kenton said in a telephone interview with the Nashville Banner.

The Banner contacted Kenton Thursday in Cedar Lake, Ind., following reports that he spoke out against country music and Nashville during a recent interview in Los Angeles.

Plenty of gas -- perhaps

There is some comfort in Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb's assurance that motorists will have plenty of gasoline this summer. On the strength of that one might set out on vacation with reasonable confidence of not being stalled somewhere in the boondocks for lack of fuel.

Zarb's assurances are less than absolute, however. It is just a bit disquieting to find that he and his expert colleagues don't quite know why there has been a six per cent drop in the nation's gasoline stocks. Crude oil stocks are not down; they are up by about five per cent. The government is puzzled. We are told that an FEA team has been "querying every major oil company to determine the cause of the situation and why average oil refinery use is running at 80 to 85 per cent of capacity." So go ahead: start that long trip. All will be revealed, and there'll be gas enough. Maybe.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.
SUNDAY, JUNE 29

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Watch trends and join forces with those who have a stake in the common welfare. Your priceless energy can be of great help.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
You may have to do some extra maneuvering, revise some plans. Don't go too far out on a limb, however. Stability needed.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Mixed influences. Organize talents and know-how to promote your interests more efficiently. Translate good ideas into working processes. Romance favored.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Be alert. A thoughtless move could have more serious repercussions than you could possibly imagine. Emphasize your steadfastness, practicality.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Shun controversies which merely take up time and dissipate energies. Change your mode of approach if the occasion demands.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Some changing conditions, new trends indicated. You won't like them all immediately, but many are better than appear at a glance. Study everything carefully.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
You have better planetary influences than most, but you could still miss out on opportunity if careless or indifferent. Don't let this happen!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
A chance now to see things in quite perspective. Stand back to review activities — but only those concerned with the present. Forget the past.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

If it will help to clear up a situation in sensible fashion, don't turn down any feasible suggestion. But discriminate between the astute and the rash.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Romance is in your picture now. You'll get unmistakable hints that someone you admire considers you most attractive. Follow up!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Fear of change may beset you at times, but success often calls for finding one's way through mazes, odd nooks, with incomprehensible persons. You may have to do this now.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
What pleases one may not please another. You may have to juggle a bit to avoid undesirable contention and hassling. But, in your quiet way, you can manage it.

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Wait for cues before launching any project. If not on guard, you could get into difficult situations or needless complications.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Avoid tendencies toward restlessness and indecision. Protect yourself and others against dubious schemes, deceiving appearances and lack of restraint.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Planetary influences especially favor research, organizational matters, finances. You may get some good ideas from others.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
This day needs enthusiasm — backed up with thorough knowledge of what you're about. Reckon with others' skill, experience. Competition may be strong.

YOU BORN TODAY are, unlike most Cancerians, inclined toward extremism and can be highly unconventional at times. Like them, however, you have a keenly analytical mind, boundless imagination and great versatility. You are more outgoing than many born under your Sign and could shine as a salesman, orator or actor. You have a decided talent for music; could excel as either instrumentalist or composer. Other fields suited to your talents: the law, science, education and horticulture. Likely faults: lack of self-confidence, hypersensitivity and jealousy.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great versatility, a high order of intelligence and a delightful personality. Also blessed with an almost limitless compassion for others, you would make an outstanding physician, nurse or sociologist. In fact, no matter what occupation you eventually choose, it's "service" angle will always be important to you, for you were born to give. You have a great appreciation for heritage and tradition; would make an excellent historian or archeologist; could also teach in these fields. Other areas suited to your talents: engineering, the law, science, painting. Traits to curb: jealousy and obstinacy.

MONDAY, JUNE 30

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Avoid tendency toward lethargy. Set sights calculatingly on your target and aim for it unerringly. Stellar influences helpful.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Concentrate on substantial and pertinent matters. Avoid unwise involvements and complications, but do not sidestep problems which MUST be handled.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Your intuition and self-confidence should be at a peak. Grasp any opportunity to show your abilities at their best. Travel plans favored.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
You may now have the opportunity to advance through a "different" idea. At least, draw up plans — ready to project at the right moment.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Some challenges indicated, but the clever and ambitious Leoite should beat them easily. In fact, they should prove highly stimulating.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Lesser matters may be highlighted now, but these could spark big achievements later. So, whatever you attempt, give your best.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A lively outlook! If you have felt some restraint lately, forget it. You may step more freely now — but not recklessly, of course.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
You may run into some opposition, but you need not let it disturb your equilibrium or your sense of humor. You usually enjoy outwitting opposing forces.

SAGITTARIUS

Penn Central upgrades track
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some 800 miles of track is being upgraded and improved this summer as part of a $300 million systemwide program of Penn Central.

The work in Ohio will mean some sections of mainline track that now have 30 mile an hour speed restrictions will have limits between 50 and 70 miles an hour, railroad officials said.

Ohio Perspective

Self-service gas urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Self-serve gasoline stations are safer than standard stations, and no longer should be prohibited in Ohio for safety reasons, a state senator claims.

Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, also said Ohioans could save five to six cents a gallon on gasoline which probably will cost at least 70 cents a gallon later this year.

He is pushing for enactment of his bill that would make Ohio the 47th state to let motorists pump their own gas. Only Hawaii, New Jersey, Illinois and Ohio are holding out from a national trend, Van Meter told the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee.

Van Meter brought two officials of the Gulf Oil Corp. before the committee to try to dispel fears about safety and quiet concerns that self-serve stations would drive conventional stations out of business on a grand scale.

John Galloway, the oil company's regional vice president for public affairs, told the committee that self-serve stations in other states have not significantly reduced the number of conventional dealerships.

In many cases, he said, existing stations installed a line of self-serve pumps and retained others at which attendants provide full service.

Van Meter said many motorists will continue to insist on full service — "such as the elderly, businessmen in suits and the like."

Clifford Long, a Gulf marketing official from Philadelphia, cited statistics in Texas that showed, among other things, that the owners of conventional stations have to pay 47 cents per $100 of receipts for liability insurance while self-serve stations are assessed only eight cents per $100.

Long said most states observe the safety code of the National Fire Protection Association in regulation of self-serve gasoline stations. Some have more stringent requirements, he said.

The code, not included in Van Meter's bill at present, requires a supervising attendant who can observe all pumps from a centrally located cubicle. It says controls in the cubicle must include a central cutoff switch that can stop the flow of gas from all pumps in an instant.

Long said the controls also ought to include switches for each individual pump "so that if he sees someone out there pumping gas with a cigarette in his hand he can stop the gas immediately."

The Gulf official said the national code also requires a communications system that lets the attendant speak to customers over a microphone or similar device, and pump handles with no hold-down device so the gas will flow only when the customer is squeezing it.

Van Meter indicated he was considering amending his bill to include the national code.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Eligible widower uses sister as watchdog

DEAR ABBY: I am a 59-year-old widower. My husband died four years ago. I am very much attracted to a 62-year-old bachelor who attends my church. He dated women up until his mother's death (two years ago), but so far as I know, the only person he ever goes out with is his widowed sister. They don't live together, but they might as well because they are inseparable.

I know he likes me because he gives me gifts on my birthday and Christmas, and he even sent me a valentine. When he goes on vacation (with his sister), he sends me postcards.

I've invited him to my home for dinner, but he always asks if he can bring his sister. (What can I say?)

When he invites me out, his sister is always along.

What do you make of this? Don't tell me to forget him. I can't, I've tried.

LAJOLLA LADY

DEAR LADY: Some men have bodyguards for protection; others have large dogs. Your friend has a sister. He doesn't want you to get any closer to him than you are, and he's making sure that you don't.

You'll never land him unless you outlive his sister.

DEAR ABBY: I was born Jewish, but three years ago I converted to the Baptist religion.

Last week my cousin, a devout young Jewish woman, died a slow, agonizing death. Everyone remembered her as a person who had never said an unkind word about anyone.

I discussed her death with my minister, hoping to get some consolation and assurance that she was now in heaven.

He said, "She is not in heaven because she didn't believe in Jesus Christ."

Abby, is this true? I was speechless.

PHILADELPHIA

DEAR PHIL: I'll leave it to other Baptist ministers to evaluate the fundamentalist comment by their brother quoted above.

DEAR ABBY: John (not his real name) and I have been going steady for two years. We're both 17.

One day, I was afraid I might be pregnant. I was scared to death and felt I couldn't tell my mother because she'd have been shattered.

By chance, John heard about a program at Planned Parenthood. I hated to go because I thought there would be a lot of little old ladies who would lecture me and condemn me, but I went anyway.

I was wrong. Everyone was very kind and understanding. I was examined by a woman doctor and given a pregnancy test. Everything was kept strictly confidential. They had a counseling session for teens. I panicked when I saw a girl I knew there, but John, who was with me all the time, pointed out that we all had the same problem.

The counseling was far better than what I had had in my high school health class. (Not only the information I had learned in school outdated, much of it was just plain wrong.)

Planned Parenthood helps with birth control, if desired. They also will arrange an abortion if you want it. Nobody tries to talk you into anything.

Please let girls know that Planned Parenthood practically saved my life. And all I had to do was call them up (they are listed in the telephone book) and ask for an appointment.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Saturday, June 28, the 179th day of 1975. There are 186 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1914, the heir to the throne of Austria-Hungary, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, was assassinated at Sarajevo, Bosnia. It was the spark that set off World War I.

On this date:

In 1778, the Revolutionary War Battle of Monmouth, N.J., took place. Molly Pitcher's aid to colonial troops made her a heroine in American history.

In 1838, Britain's Queen Victoria was crowned.

In 1919, the Versailles Treaty was signed in France after World War I.

In 1941, guerrilla warfare against the Nazis began in Yugoslavia during World War II.

In 1950, in the Korean war, North Korean soldiers captured the South Korean capital of Seoul.

In 1967, King Hussein of Jordan met with President Lyndon Johnson in Washington to discuss Jordan's plight after the six-day war with Israel.

Ten years ago: U.S. and South Vietnamese airplanes dropped nearly 3,000,000 leaflets over North Vietnam, appealing to the people to press their leaders to end warfare against South Vietnam.

Five years ago: Mrs. Richard Nixon met in Lima, Peru with the First Lady of Peru and planned a trip to areas of Peru shattered by earthquakes to distribute relief supplies.

One year ago: President Richard Nixon and Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid Brezhnev, meeting at the Kremlin, agreed on joint U.S.-Soviet ventures in housing, energy and medical research.

Today's birthday: Composer Richard Rodgers is 73.

Thought for today: Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise — Benjamin Franklin's Poor Richard's Almanac.

Cattlefeeders summer roundup slated

By JOHN GRUBER
County Extension Agent, Agriculture
Plans are underway for the 1975 Fayette County Cattlefeeders summer roundup set for Friday, August 15 at the Sam Marting farm. Preliminary plans were made and committees for the 1975 round-up were appointed by cattlefeeders president Dave Luckhart at a directors meeting this week. Luckhart has encouraged all cattlefeeders and area businessmen to mark that date and plan to attend the annual event. Tickets will be on sale just prior to the county fair.

SPEAKING OF the fair — it's hard to believe that the 1975 Fayette County Fair is only three weeks away. The 1975 edition of the fair runs, July 20 thru 26th and promises to be the best ever. Cattlefeeders directors last week also made plans for participation in the county fair. During the meeting the directors authorized expenditures of nearly $350. to be used to support junior fair activities including the beef carcass contest, the junior steer show and the junior fair steer sale.

THE FAYETTE County Fairgrounds will be a busy place in July as work progresses toward the fair. It will also be the focal point for hog producers from about 18 states as the Chester

White Summer Spotlight takes over the grounds July 7-9.

Lyle Alumbaugh, executive secretary of the Chester White Swine Record Association, has extended a personal invitation to Fayette County Pork Producers to participate in all phases of the Summer Spotlight. Spotlight activities include a type discussion, judging contest, carcass evaluation, boar and gilt show and sale, and special ladies program for pork producers wives.

Two evening activities will also highlight the program. "Ohio Night" is set for Monday evening at the Sam Marting farm. The free pork chop barbeque will include entertainment by the Preble County Festival Swingers. Tuesday night will include a banquet in Mahan Hall. The Rev. Father Richard Connelly will be the speaker. Tickets are available at $6 per person at the Extension Office, from Ron Warner at Huntington Bank or Alan Wilt. Tickets will also be available at the spotlight.

THE 1975 Lamb Queen Contest will be held Monday evening at a Shepherd's Club family cookout at the Charles Wehner farm on York Road in Perry Township. All Shepherd's Club directors and families are encouraged to attend. A short meeting will be held to make final plans for Shepherd's Club participation in the county fair.

THE HOT weather of recent weeks has been excellent corn growing weather. This weeks crop and weather report indicated that average corn height around the state was seven inches above the average for this time of year. Good growth of the corn crop was evidenced by tassel emergence in a few corn fields. I was in two corn fields Thursday that had corn in tassel. The corn was planted prior to April 15. Wheat development has come along good also. One local elevator reports a few samples in for moisture test late in the week. Wheat harvest should be well under way next week.

DOUBLE CROPPING soybeans is one topic that is starting to receive more discussion now that wheat harvest is upon us. If you considering double cropping you might want to take the wheat off at a higher moisture and dry it to get the soybeans in a few days earlier.

A little pencil pushing shows that costs for double crop beans will probably run in the area of $50 per acre. With five dollar soybeans that means a breakeven yield of 10 bushel per acre. If you figure four dollar soybeans it means 12 to 13 bushel per acre breakeven.

More peanuts being stored

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Crop Reporting Board says that 38 per cent more peanuts were being held in commercial facilities May 31 than a year ago.

That came out to a total of about 1.27 billion pounds, including 580 million pounds of actual farmers' stock, shelled peanuts equal to 655 million pounds of farmers' stock and 30 million pounds for in-shell roasting.

It doesn't include 327 million pounds held by the Commodity Credit Corp. for crushing, officials said. A year ago, the CCC held no stocks of peanuts.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, who wants to get the government out of peanuts, told reporters Thursday he sees no prospect for phasing out the program "until it starts to cost us $75 to $100 million a year."

Reporting date on crops June 30

Area farmers who are Federal Crop Insurance Corporation policyholders are reminded that the final date for reporting their acres of crops for insurance purposes is June 30.

Any crops that are reported after this date and suffered previous damage could result in no insurance coverage, explains Albert Dalton Jr., director of the Contract Service Center, Indianapolis, Ind. In the five states serviced out of the Indianapolis Center, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has approximately 22,000 spring crop contracts with farmers, protecting their crops against all natural hazards from planting until harvest.

Farmers hit by soybeans problems

By ALFRED J. BAXTER
Area Extension Agent, Agronomy
Soybean farmers in southwest Ohio have been plagued with a number of problems this spring in their soybean fields. These include poor or uneven stand, poor weed control, herbicide damage, and two or three different soybean root rots, along with a number of more or less minor problems.

Two of these problems are the most severe. Weed control has been erratic, and in many fields nutsedge and Canadian thistles have become a major problem. There are some post-emergence materials which can be used over the top of soybeans to control both of these problems, and local County Extension Agents have the information to answer these problems. Apparent herbicide damage is the other major problem and herbicide injury has not been typical with that seen in past years. With the delayed rain after the application of the post-emergence herbicides, most of us felt that weed control would not be good. However, when the rains came, weed control has been excellent in most cases, with the exception of the two above-mentioned weeds.

Herbicide damage appears to be worse where the rains were heavy in late May and early June, although in most cases it appears as though most of the beans will survive. I am not sure that anyone knows why the herbicide was more aggressive this year than in the past. This includes both herbicides applied to the soybeans, and those which were applied to corn in past years.

The major decision farmers face at this stage is whether there is sufficient stand remaining to leave the beans, or whether they should replant them. My personal feeling is that if they have 2-3 to 3-4 of a stand at this date, the beans should be left and not torn up. This is especially true if they have a branching bean such as Wayne. A straight line bean such as Beeson will require a better stand to give a good yield than one which branches.

The root rot problems have not been severe in most cases. It is impossible to tell in the field which of the root rots is killing beans, and if farmers have problems with these, the soybean plants should be sent to the Ohio State University Plant Disease Clinic to determine specifically what the problem is.

Experts unsure of soybean prices

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department experts say they are unsure how soybean prices may develop in the face of 1975 production.

"Soybean prices are adjusting to the reduced demand, the increased carryover prospects, and to the outlook for a sizable 1975 soybean crop," the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Friday.

Average farm prices for soybeans dropped from $8.17 per bushel last October to $5 in May. Officials said farmers "are still holding large quantities of soybeans" from last year's harvest.

Meanwhile, the board said, total soybean use — including domestic and export demand — is expected to drop to about 1.18 billion bushels, about one-fifth below last season and to a level less than the 1974 harvest.

That means that soybean stocks when the 1975 harvest is ready next fall will increase to about 225 million bushels, compared with 171 million bushels on hand last Sept. 1.

"A carryover of this size would be the third largest ever, surpassed only by the record 327 million bushels of Sept. 1, 1969, and the 230 million of Sept. 1, 1970," the board said.

Officials said that soybean exports this season have dropped substantially, "reflecting reduced foreign use of soybean oil and meal and keener competition from foreign commodities" from suppliers such as Brazil.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers can expect supplies of beef to be adequate next month — up 3 to 5 per cent from July last year — but prices of the better cuts also continue to rise, according to the Agriculture Department.

In a monthly "food marketing alert" issued Friday, USDA said "beef fed mainly on grass and their forages" continues to account for the over-all supply increase from a year earlier.

"At the same time," the report said, "grain-fed beef of higher U.S. grade (choice and prime) will continue reduced."

Grain-fed beef accounts for most of the retail cuts such as steaks and roasts. And because of the decline in cattle feeding from levels a year or two ago, prices of those cuts have gone up.

The price increase has occurred to a large degree because farmers and ranchers have diverted cattle onto grass pastures rather than sending them to market as many were forced to do last winter when retail beef prices were slumping — along with live cattle prices.

Market prices for live cattle at major Midwest markets have recently been around $52 per 100 pounds for choice grain-fed steers, compared with the low $30s last winter.

Pork production has been reduced for months and will reach a seasonal low in July, the report said. Retail pork supplies are expected to be down 18 to 20 per cent from July 1974, meaning that pork prices also will continue high.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cotton and wool situation may look bleak for producers but the Agriculture Department says there is one bright fiber spot: the mohair market is thriving.

Mohair is clipped from Angora-type goats and has been commanding premium prices while those of other fibers have sagged.

Prices for much of the 1975 spring clip were in the range of $1.55 to $1.85 per pound for adult goat hair and between $2.25 and $2.85 per kid hair, the department said in report the Cotton and Wool Situation.

Those are considered favorable prices by USDA experts. In 1974, for example, the average for all mohair was $1.37 per pound down from $1.87 in 1973. As a comparison, the USDA's "incentive" price support for mohair is 80.2 per cent.

Exports of mohair totaled 1.7 million pounds in the first quarter of this year, up 12 per cent from January-March 1974, the report said.

Officials said, however, that goat herds — concentrated in Texas — have diminished and totaled only 1,150,000 head on Jan. 1 down 15 per cent from a year earlier. Thus, mohair output in 1975 may total less than 8 million pounds, compared with 8.6 million last year and 9.9 million in 1973.

Inspectors fail to check grain loading

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department report written after the Nicaraguan government complained about the poor quality of grain from the United States conceded that the federal government failed to supervise the inspection of the loading operation.

The grain had been stored at the Public Elevator Co. in New Orleans, where three federally licensed inspectors were employed before they were indicted on corruption charges.

The director of the Agricultural Marketing Service grain division, which oversees the inspection program, said the failure to supervise the inspection when the 1972 Nicaraguan purchase was loaded from the grain elevator to the ship was a coincidence.

"The chances are good that the next day we were in there," David R. Galliard, who took over the job June 1, said Thursday.

But Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, said he had seen no evidence that additional supervisors had been assigned to handle surveillance at the elevator.

Rural counties gain population

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rural Ohio is becoming more attractive than the state's cities, according to statistics from the U. S. Department of Commerce and the Ohio Department of Economic and Community Development.

All urban counties are experiencing a migration.

Although Franklin County was the fastest growing county in the state in 1971-1973 (1974 figures haven't been compiled), it still had an out-migration of 4,400.

During the three years, Franklin County grew from 833,249 to 856,900, a boost of 23,700.

Butler County was second in growth, jumping 11,300 in population.

Migration is tabulated by finding the difference between the net change in population and the natural increase in population, computed from the number of births and deaths.

Most of the out-migration was to counties surrounding a metropolitan area, the statistics showed. For example, Butler is near Cincinnati.

Central Ohio counties near Columbus also showed increases. They were Delaware, Fairfield, Union, Licking, Madison and Pickaway.

In Southeastern Ohio, only two counties had an out-migration—Perry and Monroe. The others experienced population increases.

Some examples of the move from urban counties:

J.F. Cavanaugh receives award

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — The American Dairy Science Association presented J. F. Cavanaugh of Columbus, Ohio its 1975 Distinguished Service Award at its 70th annual meeting.

Cavanaugh, executive secretary of the American Jersey Cattle Club of Columbus, Ohio, received the award Sunday presented "to an individual who has contributed in an unusually outstanding manner to the welfare of the dairy industry in such areas as industrial leadership, science, engineering, public health and education."

Cuyahoga—77,000 decrease in population, with 107,800 out-migration.

Hamilton—16,500 decrease, with 37,600 out-migration.

Lucas—1,400 increase with an out-migration of 25,700.

Montgomery—8,000 increase with an out-migration of 25,700.

Stark—1,600 increase and out-migration of 10,200.

Summit—9,200 increase and out-migration of 22,500.

power attic ventilators

- Releases costly hot trapped air from attic.
- Reduces air-conditioning costs substantially.
- Reduces paint peeling, mildew, and dampness both summer and winter.
- Helps get more life out of air-conditioning systems.
- Adds more life to roofs.

Why power attic ventilation?

During hot weather, temperatures in the attic rise to 150° and higher. Thus, the air-conditioning system works overtime to try and cool the living area. The hot air trapped in the attic acts like a seal and penetrates down through the ceiling keeping the house warm even at night. This air should be released and the air temperature reduced. The efficient way to do the job is with FASCO's RV-16 or PRV-16 automatic power roof ventilators. They release the hot seal of attic air and reduce the attic air temperature equal to the outdoor temperature within 10 to 15°. The result—a more comfortable living area and a more efficient, less costly air-conditioning operation.

Alleged arson leader breaks fast

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — The man accused of masterminding the biggest arson case in FBI history walked slowly into the visitors' room of the state jail, aided by a guard. His knees were weak from an eight-day hunger strike over the bond he couldn't post.

The Rev. David Bubar, 47, of Memphis, Tenn., said in a copyright interview with The Evening Sentinel of Ansonia that he broke the fast because "I had accomplished my purpose." He said he wanted to draw attention to the problems of high bail, especially for poor people, and pretrial confinement.

The minister's followers in Memphis raised the $10,000 the bondsman wanted to guarantee release on a $100,000 bond, but an additional $90,000 in securities, such as property, stocks or jewelry, has been requested, The Sentinel learned.

Bubar was one of 10 men indicted in the March 1 explosions and fire that destroyed much of the $10 million Shelton plant of Sponge Rubber Products Co. He will not discuss the case on advice of his attorney, except to maintain his innocence.

"I am guilty of nothing. I hope to set an example for people in trouble all over the country so they can take heed."

Federal officials have accused eight Pennsylvania men, plus Bubar and the president of Sponge Rubber's parent company, of conspiring to blow up the plant to collect insurance.

Bubar is free on bond on the federal charges. He is being held on state conspiracy charges and faces arraignment Tuesday at 10 a.m. before Superior Court Judge George A. Saden in Bridgeport.

Bubar says it is wrong for a man with no prior police record to be confined before he is proven guilty.

But he said he had been treated well during his incarceration. "The staff here has been gracious and honorable. I was really surprised. They even brought trays of food to my door, though I refused them."

Prison officials speculated that Bubar might have taken nourishment during the fast because they found two oranges and a carton of milk in his bed. But Bubar said those were gifts, which he refused, and that he had taken nothing during the fast but water until Wednesday morning, when he drank some orange juice.

Bubar described the infirmary as relatively comfortable but said the new wing of the Bridgeport jail is "an electronic horror chamber" because of the

Ford keeps plants open

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today it will operate all of its U.S. assembly plants for a second straight week on Monday while reducing indefinite layoffs of hourly workers by 1,050.

Ford said 400 employees will be called back to work at various facilities and another 650 are being dropped from layoff rosters because they either retired, got new jobs or were on furlough too long to be recalled.

The changes leave 17,975 of 172,000 Ford workers off the job. Ford had more than 35,000 workers idled indefinitely during the winter.

Ford also said it will shut its Canton, Ohio, forge on Monday for a two-week paid vacation period. Ford's assembly plants will go down for two-week vacations later next month.

Industry-wide next week, 145,482 of 710,000 hourly auto workers will remain on layoff, down from a peak of more than 270,000 in February.

General Motors Corp. said Thursday it will recall at least 6,600 hourly workers from indefinite layoff in August, when it increases production at four car assembly plants.

BLUE RIBBON CHAMPS 4-H

The Blue Ribbon Champs 4-H Club meeting at the home of Mark and Lori Holloway was opened by Raymond Mick, president. Roll Call and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Kelly Mick in the place of Lisa Perrill. All members were urged to attend the Hog and Sheep Clinic and Judging Contest at the Fairgrounds Wednesday.

Senior Health Leader Mark Holloway did a report on "Pollution Recycling," and the junior safety report was given by Lori Holloway on "Boating and Swimming Safety." A demonstration was given by Kelly Mick and Jana Overly on "Feed Your Lambs Well and The Meat Will Tell".

Charles Andrews was the Blue Ribbon Champs guest speaker who told about "Feeding and Showing Hogs."

Refreshments were served by Lori Holloway, Jack Redman and Crystal Matthews. The next meeting will be at the home of Elizabeth and Cynthia Cunningham on July 8 at 7:30 p.m.

GREEN CLOVERS

The seventh meeting of the Green Clovers 4-H Club was held at the home of Margie McClish. The sewing girls discussed their projects and practiced modeling their outfits with help from Mrs. Phipps.

The nutrition girls prepared four of their cooking projects, and a 'tasting party' followed.

Teresa Colburn provided 'Dotie Bars' which she had made at home. Kim Gilmore led the girls in a game.

Jennifer Phipps, reporter

BELLE-AIRE HOMEMAKERS

The Belle-Aire Helpful Homemakers 4-H Club met June 25 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. President Tammy Schneider opened the meeting and Amy Hurley led the pledges. Reports were made by Amy and Anne Tye. Final plans were made for the Mothers' Tea and Style Show to be held July 9.

There was a discussion whether club members wished to have a cookout picnic or pizza party for a recreation outing. The final decision will be made at the next meeting. Advisers then gave members necessary information on project judging and fair procedures.

Girls with sewing projects, who will be in the style reviews at the Fair, practiced modeling. They were led by Susan Morrow and Amy Hurley.

Refreshments were served by Julia Lockman and Tammy Schneider.

The last meeting will be held July 2 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Andrew's Church. All members are urged to attend to complete the work for the Fair.

Susan Wright, reporter

JOLLY JILLS 4-H

The Jolly Jills 4-H meeting took place in the home of Kellie Mick. Dale Williams opened the meeting and Debbie Tice led the pledges. Lisa Jackson read the minutes and called the role by asking each member to name her favorite car. Kellie Mick gave the treasurer's report. Jana Overly's health report was entitled, "Teenagers Have Acne."

The nutrition clinic was discussed. Kathy Junk discussed camp with members and encouraged the younger members to attend. The bake sale was

BUT ONLY GOD CAN MAKE A TREE — Mr. Paul Hoskins, program specialist with the Department of Natural Resources of the Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation Service, is pointing out the various kinds of trees and other shrubs in the area at Camp Gipiwa, near New Martinsburg, where 97 area Girl Scouts attended the annual Day Camp conducted this past week. He also gave some interesting facts and characteristics of each.

Girl Scouts have fun at Camp Gipiwa

Camp Gipiwa was the setting for the annual Day Camp enjoyed by 97 Girl Scouts and 23 adults the past week. Mrs. Larry (Susan) Speck was Camp Director, and Mrs. R.H. (Mary Jo) Trefz the Assistant Director.

Camp Gipiwa (named for Girls, Pines and Water) is located on the Zimmerman Rd., near New Martinsburg. Located on Rattlesnake Creek, the camp provided an ideal setting of trees and brush on the rolling terrain for outdoor activities and wildlife study.

Troops camped in different units according to age levels. Hiking, outdoor cooking, and primitive camping was enjoyed. Girls averaged from 7 years of age to 18.

Highlights of the week were when Mr. Paul Hoskins, program specialist with the Department of Natural Resources conducted a nature hike, and Mr. Jerry Cremeans, Game Protector, talked of the game and wildlife program on Friday afternoon. He also brought a live raccoon.

FOURTH OF JULY PICNIC - SERVE IT SAFELY
Fried Chicken
Potato Salad
Tuna Salad Sandwiches
Sliced Tomatoes, Lettuce
Relishes
Cupcakes

It's time to celebrate the 4th of July and your whole family is ready for an outing. There's a local park close by, and a State park a half day's trip away. The question is, which place should you go to for your picnic?

One important factor in your decision should be whether you are equipped to carry perishable foods a long distance.

On a 4-hour trip to a picnic site on a 90-degree day, food that starts out chilled can become extremely warm. Then, if you wait an hour or two to serve it, there is an even greater chance for harmful bacteria to grow — and more chance of foodborne illness. For long distance trips, plan meals with less perishable foods.

In preparing food for picnics, don't handle raw chicken and then other foods without washing your hands between. Bacteria can be spread from one food to another by handling. Clean the cutting board with soap and hot water after each use.

Don't spoil a happy holiday by making people sick! Carry the fried chicken, potato salad, tuna salad sandwiches, and cupcakes in insulated bags or chests. Be sure to use ice, dry ice, or reusable cold packs. Don't depend on cold foods' staying cold just because it's in an insulated bag — especially on a warm summer day.

Where will the meal be prepared — at home, in the backyard, or away from home at some outdoor picnic site?

Where will the meal be eaten? Can you prepare and serve the food to avoid foodborne illness? Your family may enjoy meals every day without problems, but on holidays when large groups get together, meals are sometimes transported without adequate refrigeration. Bacteria can cause food poisoning. All they need to grow is the right combination of time, temperature, and moisture.

Foodborne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps, and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or even days. With young children and elderly people, the results can be more severe.

New bride honored at pretty party

Mrs. Wilbur Hoppes, Mrs. Lee Reisinger and Mrs. Mike Reisinger entertained at the home of Mrs. Hoppes recently with a bridal shower for Mrs. India Clark Ryder, bride of Mr. Wallace Ryder of Circleville.

A yellow and green color scheme was carried out throughout the party. The gift table was centered with an arrangement of grown plants and yellow daisies which was later presented to the guest of honor.

Contests conducted by Mrs. Mike Reisinger were won by Mrs. Orville Weidinger, Miss Linda Reisinger and Mrs. Becky Herman.

Following the opening of a lovely array of gifts, the guests were invited to the tea table, where the punch bowl was presided by Miss Linda Reisinger.

The invited guests were Mrs. F.E. Clark, mother of the bride, Mrs. Marshall Arledge of Circleville, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. P.E. Markley, grandmother of the groom, also of Circleville.

Also Mrs. Ned Abbott, Miss Megan Abbott, Mrs. Harold Perkins, Mrs. George Geesling, Mrs. Joyce Mead, Mrs. Billie Miller, Mrs. Randy Johnson, Mrs. Eddie Braden, Mrs. Joe Lane, Mrs. Dick Kelley, Mrs. Rick Kelley, Miss Linda Reisinger, Mrs. Robert Dick, Mrs. Everett Baird, Mrs. Russell Beatty, Mrs. Dick English, Mrs. Wayne Finney, Mrs. Nancy Melton, Mrs. Brenda Finley, Mrs. Francis Row, Mrs. Orville Weidinger, Mrs. Lelia Overly, Mr. Tom Braden, Mrs. Lucy Yerian, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Jack Hoppes, Mrs. James Braun, Mrs. Jane Ogle, and Mrs. Kay Wallace of Chillicothe; Mrs. Bill Dollman, Mrs. Mary Ann Maze and Mrs. Ruth Fogle, all of Parkersburg, W. ## Murder case now 21 years old

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — one years later, it is one of the longest uninterrupted court battles in the history of American criminal law.

Hennelly now is 59 and no longer in criminal law, except to defend J.W. "Slick" Stidham, a life term inmate of the state penitentiary, who is nearing 50. When Hennelly accepted the case, Stidham was a 28-year-old convict serving 25 years for armed robbery.

Then, in September 1954, there was a riot at the prison. During it, inmate Walter Lee Donnell, who had testified against a St. Louis armed robbery gang, was slain.

After the riot, confessions were obtained from Stidham and six other inmates in the Donnell murder. In court, the men said they were tortured into confessing. Their requests for lie detector tests were denied.

Hennelly was asked to take the case by the Rev. Charles Dismas Clark, the so-called "Hoodlum Priest" of St. Louis. Father Clark died in 1963.

"It was never any secret that I tried all of Father Clark's cases for him," Hennelly recalled in a recent interview. "He told me that he had seven boys in Jefferson City who were being railroaded for a murder that occurred during the riot down there. Clark said the state was going to ask for the death penalty in these cases, and asked me to defend them."

Hennelly accepted. "Originally, I defended all seven, but other St. Louis lawyers offered their services, so I took the Stidham case, because they considered him the ringleader."

He said he still strongly believes that Stidham was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for a murder he did not commit. In that belief, Hennelly has continued his defense of Stidham on appeal twice to the U.S. Supreme Court, twice to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, three times to the Missouri Supreme Court and every court in between. He has borne the entire cost out of his own pocket.

A fellow attorney estimates that $150,000 would be a conservative estimate of what Hennelly has invested in the case, now on appeal in U.S. District Court here.

When Hennelly argued Stidham's case before the U.S. Supreme Court in October 1972, he was executive vice president of the $1.5 billion Mississippi River Corp. The justices were curious why he continued to argue the case for a penniless convict.

Hennelly replied: "This case is like a fingernail on a blackboard with me — as it should be with any lawyer. As long as I believe that a man's in prison for something he didn't do, I can't rest."

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's weekly newsmagazine show, "The Reasoner Report," airs its final program Saturday with highlights of various stories and features seen on the show since it began in February 1973.

It's being replaced by a regular half-hour evening newscast.

ABC News President William Sheehan has said the change was ordered because ABC affiliates preferred a regular network newscast in the early Saturday evening time slot in which the "Reasoner Report" now appears.

But Harry Reasoner, who anchors the show as well as the network's weeknight newscasts, says he's certain there'll be another weekly newsmagazine program on ABC but probably not during next season.

"I hope there'll be one, because one of the things I really miss is the chance to go out three, four times a year and play reporter on a major story and I hope to find a way to do that," he said.

Reasoner, whose weeknight anchor duties tend to keep him tied down in Fun City, was asked if, in retrospect, he wished his weekend show had been given a Sunday night slot, like CBS' "60 Minutes."

"I do," said the 52-year-old newsman, a veteran of 14 years with CBS before he joined ABC in December 1970. "My preferred time all along was 10:30 on Sunday nights."

"I think our main problem was station clearances," Reasoner added, referring to stations that preferred to air their own local programs early Saturday evenings instead of the "Reasoner Report."

"The show did well where it was and there was a good audience out there," he said. "But it was on during such a good local time for the stations and they just hated to give that time up."

In August 1965, the predominantly black community of Watts in Los Angeles was devastated by a six-day riot that left 34 dead, nearly 900 injured and property damage estimated at $45 million.

On Sunday night, NBC News is airing a one-hour news special, "A Country Called Watts," which looks back at that violence, what happened after it ended and what conditions are like there now.

The show, co-reported by Tom Pettit, a white, and Gail Christian, a black, interviews a variety of Watts residents, including Marquette Frye, whose attempted arrest by a highway patrol on suspicion of drunken driving ultimately led to the riots that tore Watts apart.

IRS spies said shady

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service relied mainly on confidential informants described by an IRS official as "not the best people in the world" to gather information for its Operation Leprechaun investigation of Miami area taxpayers.

In another intelligence project, the agency's Information Gathering and Retrieval System, IRS agents and clerks pored through newspapers, clipping such items as reports on visits by prominent persons to country clubs and a gossip columnist's item on a wedding.

Both projects have been discontinued, IRS officials said in testimony this week and in a report released earlier.

The network of informants in the Leprechaun project grew to such an extent that at one point the agent who conceived and ran it admitted having several informants whom he had never met, the IRS report says.

In fact, the report says informants were themselves hiring other informants, were being used to instruct and pay other informants, and were asked to spy on each other as well as persons suspected of violating tax laws.

Giants blast Dodgers

Reds beat Padres in eleven

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Strategy, you might say, is a sometime thing. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn't. For Sparky Anderson, it did. For John McNamara, it didn't.

McNamara, San Diego's manager, decided to bypass slugging Johnny Bench with an intentional walk to get to the Reds' struggling Dan Driessen in the 11th inning of Friday night's game in Cincinnati.

Anderson, the Reds' manager, then decided to let Driessen swing away. "When the winning run is on, go to whacking," he explained.

So Driessen whacked a Danny Frisella pitch hard enough to put the ball over the right field wall for a three-run homer that gave the Reds a 5-2 victory over the Padres and helped Cincinnati widen its National League West lead to 5½ games over Los Angeles.

In the rest of the NL, San Francisco belted Los Angeles 10-5, New York beat Philadelphia 4-2, Atlanta defeated Houston 7-4 and, in a pair of two-night doubleheaders, Pittsburgh swept Chicago 5-1 and 5-3 and St. Louis split with Montreal, winning 6-4 and losing 5-4.

Giants 10, Dodgers 5

Gary Thomasson drove in three runs while Bobby Murcer drilled three hits, had two RBI and scored four to boost the Giants past Los Angeles. San Francisco scored twice in the first inning on Murcer's double and Chris Speier's sacrifice fly. The Dodgers erupted for four runs in the second, but the Giants bounced back with four in the third on successive singles and two sacrifice flies.

Mets 4, Phillies 2

New York's resident strongman — Dave Kingman — provided Jon Matlack with his winning margin against the Phils by capping a four-run first inning with a two-run homer, his 11th clout of the season.

Greg Luzinski's 18th homer of the year, tops in the majors, came in the fifth inning. It was the Phillies' first of five hits against Matlack. The Phils slipped three games back of front-running Pittsburgh in the NL East.

Braves 7, Astros 4

Dusty Baker drilled a two-run single to highlight a five-run Atlanta burst against the Astros that gave rookie Jamie Easterly his first major league victory.

Fisticuffs mark action in AL

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

The long, hot summer has just begun, but if the flare-ups in Texas and Baltimore Friday night are any indication, it's going to get a lot longer and much, much hotter.

Texas slugger Jeff Burroughs exchanged punches with one teammate and had to be restrained by Manager Billy Martin from going after another before the Rangers' 2-0, 5-8 split of a two-night doubleheader with the Minnesota Twins.

Billy Martin a peacemaker? That tells you what kind of a night it was in the American League.

Elsewhere, Detroit Manager Ralph Houk allegedly cuffed a Baltimore writer before the Orioles' 3-2 triumph over his Tigers, the Boston Red Sox regained first place in the East Division by trouncing the New York Yankees 9-1, the Oakland A's stretched their lead in the West to 5½ games with a 12-4 rout of the California Angels while the second-place Kansas City Royals were losing to the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and the Cleveland Indians scalped the Milwaukee Brewers 6-1.

Orioles 3, Tigers 2

Baltimore snapped a fivegame losing streak with the aid of Mark Belanger's two-strike squeeze bunt in the seventh inning after the tying run scored on a fielder's choice. The Tigers were ahead 2-1 on solo homers by Bill Freehan and Gene Michael. Detroit starter Tom Walker had allowed only one hit, Brooks Robinson's solo homer, when he came out in favor of John Hiller after six innings.

Red Sox 9, Yankees 1

Boston backed Rick Wise's eight-hit pitching with a timely attack. Doug Griffin drove in three runs with a double and single, Rico Petrocelli collected two RBI while extending his hitting streak to six games with a single and double and Cecil Cooper slammed his first home run of the season. Meanwhile, Wise blanked the Yankees until Bobby Bonds hit his 17th home run with two out in the ninth inning.

A's 12, Angels 4

Joe Rudi drove in four runs, and Claudell Washington and Phil Garner two apiece for Oakland. California pitchers struck out 15 batters but also yielded 16 hits and the Angels contributed six errors.

White Sox 4, Royals 3

Hal McRae drove in all three KC runs with a double and triple, but starter Al Fitzmorris had to leave after six shutout innings with a knee injury and the White Sox rallied with two runs in the eighth on Carlos May's triple and two more in the ninth. Bucky Dent's sacrifice fly drove in the tying run in the ninth and Bob Coluccio scored the winner when reliever Steve Mingori dropped a throw at first base with two out.

Indians 6, Brewers 1

Buddy Bell's sixth home run of the season put Cleveland ahead to stay in the fourth inning and two errors by Milwaukee third baseman Don Money set up a three-run fifth. Jim Bibby pitched a five-hitter for his first victory since coming to the Indians from the Texas Rangers two weeks ago as the Indians ran their longest winning streak since 1972 to six games.

Pirates 5-5, Cubs 1-3

The nine-hit pitching of Dock Ellis and a three-run homer by Richie Hebner in the fourth inning gave the Bucs their first-game triumph. Then Richie Zisk's tie-breaking single capped a two-run seventh inning that made it a sweep over the Cubs.

Cards 5-4, Expos 4-6

Ted Sizemore's two RBI in a three-run fifth inning helped Bob Gibson notch his 250th career victory in St. Louis' opening-game triumph. First baseman Reggie Smith's error on a Mike Jorgensen grounder let Pepe Mangual score from third with the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning to give the Expos a split.

Wimbledon down to 8

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Record crowds are pouring into the All-England Club to see if Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert can retain their Wimbledon titles against the world's top tennis players.

The remaining men's singles quarter-final places were to be decided today, after Connors, Sweden's Bjorn Borg, and Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., advanced into the final eight Friday.

A crowd of 34,000 shuffled shoulder-to-shoulder between courts to watch Friday's play, bringing the five-day attendance to more than 163,000. That's 10,000 more than the alltime attendance record for the 12 days of the U.S. Open at Forest Hills, set last year.

"It seems certain that our all-time record will be broken," said an All-England Club official. The record is 306,111, set last year.

Connors, 22, from Belleville, Ill., played with a master's touch Friday in beating Phil Dent of Australia 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

BITING THE BASEBALL — This is how Billy Scripture, manager of the Jacksonville Suns in the Class AA Southern Baseball League, vents his frustrations. He says chewing the cover off a baseball is cheaper than an ulcer operation. One of the tough guys, Scripture also lets balls from a pitching machine at 60 miles an hour hit him in the chest.

Ford Blue tune-ups save more than fuel

Now is the time to tune-up your tractor engine and save. Save fuel. Save money. And help increase power and efficiency. Our mechanics will give your tractor a tune-up fast, efficiently and at a price you'll like. We have a wide selection of tune-up parts for "do-it-yourselfers", too.

Ford gas engine tune-up kits include all the parts you need to tune-up a Ford Tractor. Parts are sealed in a plastic bubble to help guard against loss or corrosion. Rebuilt diesel pumps and injectors are worth their price in the fuel you may save!

Tune up now . . . and save. Our volume parts buying brings you many special values. And, when we tune up your tractor, this official USDA emblem will go on it to show your neighbors that you care about energy conservation.

Let us help you save energy

Ali and Bugner hold weigh-in

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — British challenger Joe Bugner Saturday weighed in at 230, five pounds heavier than world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali for their championship fight.

Lions Babe Ruth

Outstanding pitching performances by Mike Jinks and Bryan Zurace accounted for three Good Hope victories in Babe Ruth Minor League action the past week.

Jinks tossed a no-hitter against Craigs Saturday and held Willis to one-run Thursday while Zurace fired a two-hitter in the second game of Saturday's twinbill.

Good Hope took, 9-0 and 12-0 wins in the doubleheader with Craigs.

Thursday, Jinks pitching performance was helped out by the hitting of Joe Forrest, Scott Grooms and Bill Henry as Good Hope took the win, 12-1.

Hopeful News in Medicine:

Speaking of Your Health...

LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The Persistence of Medical Myths

It is amazing how many medical myths and old wives' tales persist. One of my readers specifically asked if gout is a rich man's disease. It isn't.

The myth stems from the well-known cartoon of the very obese, rich tycoon, sitting in an overstuffed armchair. His swollen toe is swathed in bandages and elevated on a pillow, while his butler serves and pampers him.

This is a misconception. Gout is not a socially selective disease. It occurs among people of all social and economic levels and in all geographic areas.

Gout is a complex disturbance of the body's utilization and elimination of uric acid. Diets that are rich in purine produce excess uric acid. People with a gouty tendency seem to accumulate uric acid in the blood and in the body tissues. Liver, sweetbreads, kidneys, gravies and anchovies are great offenders.

Many excellent drugs can prevent the formation of uric acid and help in its elimination.

Another myth exists that a beefsteak cures a black eye. There are no medical properties in beefsteak for this. A black eye caused by an injury is best treated by cold, moist applications.

When an injury first occurs, an application of cold slows down the bleeding and prevents swelling. After a few hours, however, warm applications help absorb the blood and make the bright colors disappear more rapidly.

Do we feed a cold and starve a fever? The argument has raged for years. Colds are infections that normally deplete the body of protein and energy. With or without fever, a cold, gripe or flu is benefited by small, frequent, light, nourishing feedings.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... Leftover custard, desserts and salads with mayonnaise must be refrigerated quickly. They can be breeding grounds for bacteria, especially in hot weather.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "Alcoholism: A Family Disease." It probes this grave problem and offers helpful advice. For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Alcoholism booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Opening lead — Eight of hearts.

Part of good declarer play is not letting the opponents know when you are in trouble. Mrs. Larry Coil, who captured the Washington Duplicate Bridge Club's spring participation award, demonstrated this ability Tuesday night.

She needed only an average finish Tuesday to capture the award, and this hand played an important part in accomplishing this.

When the dummy hit, it was obvious that declarer had not legitimate play to make four hearts. She could not help but lose three aces and at least one trump trick.

After she played low to the first heart, East inserted the jack and declarer took the ace. This guaranteed the loss of only one trump.

A second trump was led and East took the king, returning the jack of diamonds to the ace. A diamond was returned to the king, and declarer tried to discard her spade by leading the queen of diamonds. Unfortunately, East ruffed and south had to overruff.

Rather than showing her hand and admitting down one, declarer confidently led her singleton spade, and gave East the opportunity to go wrong.

From the bidding, it seemed likely that declarer held five hearts and four clubs. Since she was known to have started with two diamonds, East reasoned that she was likely to hold two spades. Taking the ace immediately would allow her to reach dummy and discard on the long spades.

Thus, the king of spades was allowed to win, and the contract was made.

Even an unmakeable contract can be brought home, if declarer gives the opponents every opportunity to make a mistake.

Making four hearts was a top board and helped Mrs. Coil take home the spring trophy.

Tuesday was the last week of the spring competition for the Washington Duplicate Bridge Club. Although not among Tuesday's winners, Mrs. Larry (Marlene) Coil placed high enough to capture the award. She finished the three-month period with 148 points. Bruce Strickland, the winter award winner, finished second with 142 points.

Topping the field Tuesday were J.C. Wright and Mrs. Eber Coil with 89. Right behind them were Mrs. William Bourke and Miss Miriam Fite with 88½. In third place were John Lachat and Mrs. Gay Jackson with 80.

July 1 marks the first week of the summer award competition, and all area bridge players are invited to participate. Games are held at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday in the Washington Inn. Partnerships for new players can be arranged by Mrs. J.C. Wright, 335-7325.

Butter output shows rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The just-completed Agriculture Department statistics on the production of manufactured dairy products in 1974 show butter production 5 per cent above last year's record low and cheese output 9 per cent above the previous high of 1973.

But another fiscal year-end report, a summary of federal milk marketing order statistics, testifies to the continued economic crunch for dairy farmers, with tables showing a year-to-year drop of 4,646 in the average number delivering milk to handlers regulated by the orders.

Although there were some breaks in the downward trend, the statistics show 134,328 delivering producers in January 1973 and 127,010 in December 1974.

Nonetheless, 2.93 billion pounds of cheese was double the level of only 15 years ago, with American types accounting for 63 per cent of production. Production of cottage cheese declined, however, by 11 per cent for creamed and 5 per cent for lowfat.

Grain prices still dropping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Livestock and vegetable farmers continue to receive better prices for their products but grain prices are still dropping, the Crop Reporting Board confirms.

The meat animal index in Friday's monthly farm price report was up 4 per cent for the month ending June 15, largely on the strength of $38.50 per 100 pounds for all beef cattle and $47.30 per hundredweight hogs.

But the food-grains index was off a sharp 13 per cent with wheat at $2.92 a bushel, 55 cents less than in mid-May and 65 cents less than a year before. Rye was the same at $2.19 a bushel as in June 1974, and rice, unchanged from May at $10.40 per 100 pounds, was $7.10 below a year earlier.

Michigan city fires said arson

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Arson is blamed in fires Friday night that damaged two apartments under construction in Michigan City.

Fire Inspector Jack Koekte said the first fire was discovered in an eight-townhouse complex, which was to have been completed next month. That blaze was contained, Capt. Koekte said, but the second destroyed an apartment building under construction on the city's south side about three miles away.

He said firemen had to race from the first fire to battle the second. Firefighters could see an orange glow in the southern sky as they reeled in hoses at the first site.

Jerome Hyndman, architect for the townhouses, said he could not estimate damage. He said total cost for the project was between $250,000 and $300,000.

Independent Wealth. It didn't come EASY.

Basically, we were born broke.

So Americans got together and loaned their new government over $27,000,000 on faith alone.

Eventually, it was that faith that won the war and our freedom. Today, that faith is still alive.

Over 9½ million modern Americans buy United States Savings Bonds regularly through the Payroll Savings Plan ... and others where they bank.

And while their savings grow, they're helping their country grow, too. Independently.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Fair photo contest competition slated

There will be four classes of black and white photography and eight classes of color competition for the photographic exhibits in the 1975 Fayette County Fair.

Those who wish to enter their photography in competition must submit their photos before noon July 12 at the Pensyl Camera Shop, 231 E. Court St. Entries will be judged at the shop the afternoon following the deadline.

The four categories of black and white prints are general pictorial, nature, pictorial portrait and the 1974 Fayette County Fair.

Slides may be submitted in the following classes, general pictorial, nature, pictorial portrait, children, people at work, 1974 Fayette County Fair, pictures at night, and abstract and experimental photography. Cash prizes will be awarded in each class with the top slide or photo receiving $4; second, $3; third, $2; and fourth, $1. The best slide in the show and the best black and white print in the show will be awarded sweepstakes ribbons.

All classes are open to any photographer. The entry must have been taken by the entrant, and only one award in each class will be presented to a single entrant.

No slide or print which has been previously entered in Fair competition will be eligible.

Prints must be eight by 10 inches or larger and must be mounted on standard 16x20 mounting board in such a way that the board may be hung vertically. The name of the entrant and the category entered must be placed on the back in the upper left corner.

All color slides must be in two-inch square mounts which are properly spotted for projection.

No limit is placed on the number of black and white prints entered. No more than two slides may be entered in each class by any one entrant.

All possible care will be exercised by the committee in charge of the Fair exhibit, but the board cannot be held responsible for loss or damage of slides or prints.

Any questions concerning the competition should be referred to Charles Pensyl, 335-3520.

Center may use solar energy system

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The planned Columbus Convention Center may be heated and cooled by solar energy.

Battelle Memorial Institute said federal funds may be sought to pay for a solar heating and cooling system for the Columbus Convention Center to be built by the Battelle Commons Co., a Battelle subsidiary.

Clyde Tipton, president of the firm, said it would be the largest system ever built. He said plans call for solar energy to produce 60 to 70 per cent of the total heating and cooling.

The board of trustees for the company must first approve the move.

Possible drug overdose probed

A 15-year-old Washington C.H. youth was admitted to Fayette Memorial Hospital at 11:01 p.m. Friday for a possible drug overdose.

Hospital officials reported the youth presently is in satisfactory condition.

City police also reported a citizen's band 23-channel radio stolen from a car belonging to Marion Merritt, 901 E. Temple St., sometime between 5 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Friday while the auto was parked in the municipal parking lot on S. Fayette Street. Police are investigating.

Five traffic mishap checked

Three traffic mishaps resulted when drivers took their eyes from the road for various reasons. One hit-skip accident was reported by Washington C.H. police. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department investigated an accident involving two semi-trucks.

A car driven by Deborah L. Bullock, 17, of 824 Clinton Ave., struck a car belonging to Mildred Mullen, parked in front of her 236 W. Elm St. residence at 12:14 a.m. Saturday. Police stated Ms. Bullock looked down while inserting an eight-track tape into her tape player and struck the Mullen auto. She was charged with reckless operation and Washington C.H. firemen were summoned to the scene to wash spilled gasoline from the street.

A car driven by Earl M. Fredrick, 36, of 123 Oak St., struck a car belonging to Charles Howell Jr., 633 E. Paint St., while traveling on Delaware Street near the Paint Street intersection at 10 p.m. Friday. Fredrick was charged by police with reckless operation and driving while intoxicated.

A bicycle ridden by Tony R. Whitler, 9, of 902 W. Temple St., collided with a parked car belonging to Linda Satchell, 2011 Heritage Dr., at 2:50 p.m. Friday, while Whitler was riding in the vicinity of E. Temple and Walnut streets. Police reported no injury.

A car belonging to Cathy White, 817 Lakeview Ave., was struck by an unidentified driver while parked in front of her residence sometime Friday, police reported.

A semi-truck driven by Orten A. Crawley, 21, Lenor City, Tenn., backed into a parked semi-truck driven by Earl W. Eggleston, 27, Hebron, Ky., at 3:05 a.m. Friday, while the Eggleston truck was parked at the Union 76 Truck Stop, I-71 and U.S. 35 Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported.

Mrs. Gandhi shuffles cabinet

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today made her first cabinet change since proclaiming a national emergency, naming V.C. Shukla as information minister, the post that implements new censorship regulations.

Shukla, former head of the planning commission, switched places with Inder Kumar Gujral, who had been chief of the Information Ministry for three years.

No explanation was given for the switch. It was not known if the change would lead to any shifts in policy.

All news dispatches from India have been based on official government briefings and other information cleared by censors since Thursday when censorship was imposed and the emergency was declared.

Six of New Delhi's seven English language newspaper resumed publication after being shut down for two days.

The Motherland, organ of the right-wing Jana Sangh party, remained closed.

Two newspapers, the Hindustan Times, and the Indian Express, had white spaces where their editorials normally appeared as a silent protest of the censorship regulations.
